THE FIRST JOINT CONVENTION

The First Joint Convention of the United Confederate Veterans and United Sons of Veterans, was called to order in the Tabernacle, Tuesday, June 14th, at 12.20 p. m.

The Commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, Gen. Stephen D. Lee, and the Commander-in-chief of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans, were seated together upon the platform.

A number of the Officers of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans were also seated upon the platform.

After the Address of Welcome, Gen. Stephen D. Lee was introduced and responded to the Address of Welcome on behalf of the Veterans.

Before closing, Gen. Stephen D. Lee referred to the United Sons of Confederate Veterans, saying: "The United Sons of Confederate Veterans are meeting in Convention in your City. We have invited them to our Convention, and extend to them the privileges of the floor, this, by mutual consent and approval.

I approve of their organization, and desire to co-operate with them and assist them in every way. I welcome the Sons to our Convention.

Dr. Thomas M. Owen, Commander of Alabama Division, U. S. C. V., was then introduced to the Convention and responded on behalf of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans.

Dr. Owen said in part:

"I pledge the Sons to be loyal to you forever. You have admitted us to the house of our Father. Shall we not remain in it. We will, for always. We will perpetuate your memory and keep alive your fame."

Dr. Owen's speech received the approval of the Convention by its continuous applause.

The Convention was then turned over to Gen. Lee for the transaction of such business as might come before it.

MINUTES

NINTH ANNUAL REUNION

OF

THE UNITED SONS OF CONFEDERATE VETERANS

HELD IN

NASHVILLE, TENN.,

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, June 14th, 15th and 16th, 1904.

FIRST DAY.

The Ninth Annual Convention of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans was called to order in Watkins Hall, at Nashville, Tuesday, June 14th, 1904, at 3:15 p. m., by Comrade John H. DeWitt, Commandant, Camp Joe. Johnston, No. 28, of Nashville, Tenn.

In the absence of the Chaplain-General, Bishop Gailor offerred an eloquent and impressive invocation.

On behalf of the Sons of Nashville, Commandant DeWitt welcomed the Convention, and spoke as follows:

"The Confederate Veteran is the object of our first love and honor on the occasion of this happy reunion. From everywhere in our Southland he is here in our city, the survivor of the noblest and most unselfish army that ever fought, the recipient of the gratitude of the noble women and loyal children of the South for his heritage to them of valor and sacrifice in war and recuperative energy and constructive achievement in time of peace. History records no stronger, hardier, truer or more dauntless race of men. Romance and poetry bring us no dearer, tenderer charm than their career of pathos and glory. We cling to these men, our fathers and exemplars, and would pray that they may be long spared to us to bless these reunions and hallow the civilization which we are building to-day.

"The Confederate soldier furnishes a basis for our character-building that will give the sure solution of all problems and develop in their noblest form the unquestioned ideals which we have been taught to cherish. It is because we realize that we should keep close to this example that we have the honor to welcome to-day this splendid gathering of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans.

"It is because we propose to build upon the courage, the honor, the chivalry, the simplicity and unselfishness of heart, which the Confederate soldier exalted, and thus endeavor to see that no unworthy commercialism or lust of greed stain the Confederate soldier's name.

"It is also because we are determined that history shall do justice to him and prejudice shall not defame him; that art and literature shall preserve enduringly the memorials of the great and sacred past, and that we may learn best how to serve our beloved country as the duties of citizenship and the responsibilities of leadership fall increasingly upon our generation. These are among the reasons why Nashville and her Sons of Confederate Veterans have the glad pleasure of receiving you with love and a grateful sense of the privilege of your presence with us during this happy week.

"Once before, in the very infancy of our confederation, Nashville had the honor of welcoming into her midst the representatives of the cultured and chivalrous sons of Confederate soldiers. Seven years ago the organization was small and almost undeveloped. To-day we welcome a magnificent company representing camps in every locality in the South, all aglow with enthusiasm in the high and unquestionable and important work for which our confederation was called into being.

"Comrades, you will later be greeted in behalf of the noble Daughters of the Confederacy, whose loyalty to their great work amounts to a religious devotion; you will hear from one of their noblest and bravest the welcome of the veterans of Nashville and the glorious old Volunteer State, many of whose counties sent into the Confederate army more soldiers than they had voters. It is my pleasure, representing Joseph E. Johnston Camp No. 28, of Nashville, to welcome you with sincerest comradeship and joy as our guests for these days. We greet you with deepest sympathy in all that you plan to accomplish here. We invite you to exercise a sense of ownership over all that we possess and provide. We believe in the high usefulness of the confederation which you officially represent, and in bidding you thrice welcome, we say all hail to—

"'A glorious company, the flower of men,
To serve as models for a mighty world,
And be the fair beginning of a time.'"

Commandant DeWitt's address was well received, and he was frequently applauded.

At the conclusion of his address, Commandant DeWitt then introduced Gen. W. B. Bates, who addressed and welcomed the Sons to Nashville on behalf of the Confederate Veterans:

GENERAL BATES' WELCOME

"Comrades (I call all of you Sons of Veterans 'comrades,') I thank Commandant DeWitt for what he has said of me. I hope I deserve a part of it. From the firing of the first gun at Fort Sumter to the last ditch at Bentonsville I was in the fight, and had I to do it over again I would go cheerfully.

"We veterans welcome you to Nashville. We welcome you to these associations. I am glad to see the picture of that illustrious patriot and soldier, Robert E. Lee. It means something. I am glad you have taken the name 'Sons of Veterans.' It means that your fathers were distinguished men who wore the gray, dared to do their duty in the peril of war, and fought for their country. I believe that when the sun set upon Jefferson Davis for the last time it set upon the grandest character of the American continent. It was he who said, 'Would to God Sidney Johnston had lived two more mortal hours. Grant would have been prisoner before he was President.'

"There are rolls and rolls of honor to which your fathers belonged. There was Shiloh, and Stone's River, Chickamauga and Gettysburg. I say Chickamauga was the best fought battle of the war on both sides. Rosecrans showed himself a General there, and as long as Point Lookout rears its head like the Chimborazo of the Andes, so long will the glory won by your fathers live in history.

"Your purpose is to perpetuate and preserve the history of the country, and to correct any slurs and slanders that may be cast, and see that the reputation of your father shall be protected. You must see that the pages of history grow brighter with time. The people of each country love the old flag and its old associations. We defend the stars and stripes, but the flag of our hearts is the stars and the bars.

"We must preserve our songs. Some one has said: 'If you let me write your country's songs, I'll mould its polities?' We have 'Yankee Doodle,' 'Hail Columbia,' and 'Star Spangled Banner,' but thank God, that's not all. We yet have the beautiful strains of 'Maryland, My Maryland,' and the inspiring strains of 'Dixie.'

"There are no such women in the world as the Southern women. The South is far enough North to give her beauty and solidity, and far enough South to give a sentimentality, patriotism and devotion, that was beautiful to see. They were our inspiration. They stood firm and backed us. We were not beaten, but were exhausted. Who is here to say that the last soldier who stood on the mountains of North Carolina and told the enemy he was there, was not a patriot?

"We old fellows will not be here long, but it is a source of gratification, and I am proud to know that we have young men and young women coming on who will preserve our history."

Mrs. John P. Hickman was then introduced, and on behalf of the Daughters of the Confederacy of Nashville, welcomed the Sons in the following words:

MRS. HICKMAN'S WELCOME.

"Mr. Commandant and Young Gentlemen:

"'"'Tis sweet to know there's an eye will mark
Our coming, and look brighter when we come.'

"The Joe Johnston Camp of Sons of United Confederate Veterans, have honored me, a gray-haired daughter, to welcome you to Nashville in behalf of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

"There has always existed an affinity between the Sons and Daughters, but on this occasion that affinity warms into love, a love that binds people together who are working from the same patriotic principle and striving to attain the same ends.

"We had noble, God-fearing sires, whose virtues we desire to perpetuate, and whose deeds of valor, heroism and devotion we strive to emulate. The son or daughter who does not revere the memory of their progenitors will be forgotten by their descendants and their names will only live while they live.

"Our organizations, and the organizations of our fathers, the Confederate soldiers, have accomplished much. They have builded all of our Confederate Homes, have obtained meagre pensions for our maimed and indigent soldiers; have erected monuments in memory and recognition of the self-sacrifice of those who fell, and are writing impartial history which justifies the cause of the Confederate States, and proves to the world that the South was not the traitor, but the patriot.

"When that history shall have been written, you and I, and our descendants, will be proud of our lineage and the whole world will say, 'they were men, take them for all in all, we shall ne'er look upon their like again.'

"Nashville is truly a Southern city, in recollections and endearments, and represents the same great principles on which our organizations are founded. It has felt the shock of war, and has 'heard the neighing steeds and clashing swords.' It has been trampled upon by the heel of the invader, and had its best and most prominent citizens cast into prison. After the war, it was dominated by carpet-baggers and freedmen's bureaus, and its citizens had no voice in its management. With this record, why should it not rejoice to have you here? Yes, you are welcome, thrice welcome! The latch string hangs on the outside, and if everything is not handed out on a silver platter, ask, and it will be given you."

Past Commander-in-chief, Biscoe Hindman, arose, and after being introduced, responded on behalf of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans:

"When I heard that gallant soldier, William B. Bate, say that he would soon pass away, I thought it very essential that we have a junior organization. Many are crossing the river, as he says, but it is a pleasant thought to know that they are joining such men as Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson, and that nature's nobleman, John B. Gordon. It will be a sad day when the last soldier shall have passed away, Gen. Bate, for we need them to point the way for us. While it was not our proud privilege to respond to the reveille, yet we will proudly trace our lineage to those heroes who were.

"It is a privilege to be allowed to follow so distinguished a lady as Mrs. John P. Hickman. I say those gray hairs to a soldier are as beautiful as the blackest tresses of the most beautiful maid. The Southern women are superior to any on earth."

Commandant John H. DeWitt then turned the Convention over to Homer Lee Higgs, Commander Tennessee Division. Commander Higg, with a few well-chosen remarks, turned the Convention over to W. E. Daniel, Commander of the Trans-Mississippi Department.

Commander Daniel after thanking the Sons for their co-operation with him during the past year, turned the Convention over to Commander-in-chief William McL. Fayssoux.

Commander-in-chief, Fayssoux, in a few short remarks requested that the Convention waste no time, and endeavor to finish its business before the time fixed for the parade. Continuing he said:

"In my administration the Sons have lent material assistance, especially the Department and the Division Commanders, some of whom have been unwavering in their efforts to carry on the affairs of this Association. I have no intention or desire to weary you with a lengthy address. It has been my express intention to urge and effect the Joint Convention of the Veterans and Sons of Veterans, as this would prove the most effective means of bringing to the attention of both organizations matters of mutual importance for discussion and action thereupon.

"OUR TIME IS LIMITED.

"You should show a certain amount of attention by carefully considering the matters coming before you. Then you will have no waste of time or unnecessary delays. You should successfully terminate your business affairs in sufficient time to have your election before the parade.

"The affairs of our Confederation are in such a condition, that they require considerable and careful consideration. I suggest the appointment of a Committee to consider this matter. We have something like four hundred and seventy-nine camps on our rolls, fifty per cent. or more are in bad standing. Some camps on the rolls have never paid their charter fees. It is necessary for this Committee to consider the importance of these facts. That with one hundred per cent. of cost and only fifty per cent. of revenue, the Confederation cannot be run along under these conditions.

"The Chair will rule impartially upon all questions, and should any dissatisfaction present itself among the delegates of said Convention the Chair will allow it to be appealed to the Convention."

Following the address of the Commander-in-chief, which was received with applause, Comrade Owen moved the appointment of a Committee on Resolutions and a Committee on Welfare of the Confederation.

The Chair stated that the next business in order was the appointment of a Committee to extend greetings to United Confederate Veterans, and to inform them that the Sons were in Convention assembled.

Comrade Hindman moved that all the Past Commander-in-chiefs and Division Commanders be appointed, seconded by Comrades Haughton and Mann, which motion was duly carried.

The Commander requested Comrade Hindman to see that the greetings were properly extended.

Motion to dispense with roll-call was duly made and carried.

CREDENTIAL COMMITTEE.

The Chair requested each Division to give the name of a comrade to serve upon the Credential Committee, and the following comrades were appointed:

Comrade Owen, of Alabama, was appointed Chairman of the Committee on Credentials, and each department furnished a member, as follows: Tennessee, J. A. Collingsworth; Virginia, R. W. Ashby; Alabama, Thomas M. Owen; Arkansas, D. C. Bell; Georgia, Harry Becket; Indian Territory, Walter Keith; Louisiana, R. A. Tichenor; Kentucky, J. Gathright; Mississippi, J. W. Stout; Missouri, R. B. Haughton; Oklahoma, B. H. Kirk; South Carolina, J. J. McSwain; Texas, J. Stocket.

Convention then adjourned until Wednesday morning, at 10 a. m.

SECOND DAY.

Morning Session.

Convention was called to order at 11 a. m., Wednesday, June 15th, 1904.

The Chair requested the Divisions to send names of comrades to serve upon the Committee on Resolutions and the Committee on Welfare of the Confederation.

Comrade Owen, Chairman of Credential Committee, submitted the following report:

William McL. Fayssoux, Commander-in-chief, U. S. C. V.:

The Committee on Credentials having considered the various subjects submitted, beg to report the following Camps of the Confederation in good standing and entitled to the following votes in this Reunion Convention, viz:

REPORT OF ADJUTANT GENERAL, U. S. C. V., NASHVILLE REUNION, JUNE 14, 15, 16, 1904.

Hon. W. McL. Fayssoux, Commander-in-chief United Sons of Confederate Veterans: I beg herewith to hand you my report as Adjutant General and Chief of Staff of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans, since our last annual reunion, held at the City of New Orleans, Louisiana, May the 19th, 20th, 21st and 22d, 1903:

1st. The general condition of the Confederation is exceedingly unsatisfactory, for, at hour of this writing, June 8th, 1904, more than two-thirds of our membership is in arrears for per capita tax from one to eight years; this, despite the fact that appeals have been made to the Camps, time after time, to settle their delinquency. I, therefore, in this connection, strongly recommend that the Convention drop from the rolls of the Confederation, or give the coming administration power so to do, all Camps over two years in arrears.

I also condemn the practice that has grown up in late years of allowing Camps to put off settlement with Headquarters to the last hour; many waiting until the Reunion City has been reached before considering the matter at all; thereby interfering with the work of officers, hampering them and the Convention; besides having kept the Confederation out of funds and running from hand to mouth during the entire year. Several Camps have paid per capita tax to this administration without paying arrears or charter fees. Books of previous administrations show that dues have been remitted to a number of Camps, by what authority I do not know, and it would seem a matter for this Convention to consider.

2d: I recommend the adoption of our button as our official emblem, and that this Convention direct its use on all letter-heads, stationery, general orders, etc.

3d: I highly endorse the system of compiling records which you have adopted for your administration, and recommend its continuance by all future officers.

It is also my desire to compliment and endorse the faithful, efficient and splendid work of Assistant Adjutant General, Comrade William L. Wooten, than whom no one has given better service.

4th: I am informed by Honorable William E. Mickle, Adjutant General and Chief of Staff, U. C. V., that, should our Convention decide to establish a permanent Headquarters, space will be given us, free of cost, in the U. C. V. offices in the City of New Orleans; and I recommend that this Convention accept this generous offer; that it further, elect, or direct the next Commander-in-chief to appoint a permanent Secretary, who shall have entire charge of our offices, and who shall receive a salary commensurate with his services. In no other way that I can see, can our records be kept together, or our business be conducted economically, or with any system. This recommendation is prompted by the chaotic condition of our affairs as they came to my hands from past administrations.

5th: I have received from the administration of Past Adjutant General, Homer D. Wade, the books, records, etc., of the Confederation.

6th: The standing of the Camps in the Confederation is as follows:

W. COVINGTON HALL,
Adjutant General and Chief of Staff, U. S. C. V.

It was moved and duly seconded that the Adjutant General's report be approved and adopted.

REPORT OF QUARTERMASTER GENERAL.

Quartermaster General, T. S. McChesney, read his preliminary report, showing amount received to date of Convention, six hundred and eighty dollars and twenty-six cents. Expenditures, six hundred and sixty-six dollars and ninety-one cents; leaving a balance of thirteen dollars and thirty-five cents.

Reported that he had received about five hundred dollars since opening of Convention, and asked permission to make and submit final report later.

Comrade Owen moved the report be received, and that the Quartermaster General be given time to file his final report. Seconded and carried.

NASHVILLE, TENN., 14th June, 1904.

D. C. BELL, Arkansas.

Comrade Tisdal desired to know if the Convention intended to adjourn so that the members could attend Memorial Services at the Veterans Hall.

Comrade Mann urged the Convention to continue business.

Comrade Mann announced that the Monument Committee would meet at 12 m.

After discussion upon the subject of adjournment to attend Memorial Services, it was found the hour fixed for said Services had passed, and the Convention continued its business.

Gov. McMillan, of Tennessee, being in the Hall, was invited to the platform, and addressed the Convention.

Comrade Mann, Chairman Women Memorial Committee, submitted a verbal report:

It showed $3,254.79 in bank to the credit of the fund, further subscriptions amounting to $5,000, and the Chairman stated that $600 of collected money was in the hands of the Camps ready to be paid. The veterans also have a fund to be turned over to the Sons. It is proposed to raise $50,000 to erect a monument in honor of the patriotism of the Women of the Sixties. The Monument Committee is composed of one member from each State. The site for the monument has not yet been selected.

Moved and duly seconded that the report be received and adopted. Carried.

Comrade DeWitt arose, and after asking permission for the floor, offered the following resolution:

Resolution introduced by John H. DeWitt, of Tennessee:

Whereas, 31,152 Confederate soldiers died in the Federal prisons and military hospitals in the Northern States, and were buried near their places of confinement;

And whereas, there was adopted at the Memphis Reunion, 1901, a resolution, as follows:

"Resolved, That we respectfully request that Congress take appropriate action looking to the care and preservation of the graves of the Confederate dead now in the various cemeteries in the Northern States." Which resulted in the introduction of a bill in the Congress of the United States providing for the honorable care of said Confederate dead soldiers, which said bill passed the United States Senate January 27th, 1903, and was again passed by that body January 25th, 1904.

And whereas, the Military Committee of the House of Representatives, April 16th, 1904, reported to the House of Representatives, the said bill, as passed on two different occasions by the United States Senate, with the following amendment:

1. The reduction of the amount of the appropriation provided in said bill from $200,000 to $20,000.

2. The elimination of the provision for the appointment of a Commissioner, and in lieu thereof the designation of a U. S. Army Officer to execute the provisions of said bill.

3. The elimination of the provision in said bill for the acquirement by the United States Government of permanent control of the lands in which said Confederate dead soldiers are buried. Which said proposed amendments divest the bill of its essential features.

Now, therefore, this organization of United Sons of Confederate Veterans, in convention assembled, deem it necessary and fitting to place itself frankly on record regarding the matter, and to declare that it is of the opinion that it is the duty of the United States Government to provide honorable care for the graves of said Confederate dead soldiers lying buried in the Northern States, in the manner provided in the bill as it has passed the United States Senate.

And, further, to declare that it is the duty of the Southern representatives in Congress, to endeavor, by all honorable means, to promote legislation in the Congress of the United States to that end, so far as may be to them possible; and that copies of this resolution be sent to them.

It was moved and duly seconded that the resolution be adopted. Carried.

REPORT OF THE HISTORICAL COMMITTEE.

The report of the Historical Committee was next called for. Dr. Thomas M. Owen, Commander of the Alabama Division, and also the Director of the Alabama Department of Archives and History, came forward and presented the report, which was received with applause. It is as follows:

Comrades:

A report of the work of the Historical Committee since its appointment to the present time is respectfully submitted. This report will be unusually brief, and will deal altogether in a summary way with an account of what has been undertaken and accomplished, or stimulated by the Committee. I purposely avoid any discussion of historical subjects as such. For years secession, the origin of the war, battles, casualties, kindred subjects, etc., have been under review, and in a sense may be said to have been fully and definitely settled. What is said here has reference solely to the historical activities which have engaged the Committee.

APPOINTMENT AND INAUGURATION OF WORK.

The Committee was announced October 14th, 1903, in General Order No. 2, as follows, viz:

Thomas M. Owen, Chairman, Montgomery, Ala.
Edwin P. Cox, Richmond, Va.
Dr. Patrick H. Mell, Clemson College, S. C.
Dr. Walter L. Fleming, Morgantown, W. Va.
Dunbar Rowland, Jackson, Miss.
Ed. Porter Thompson, Jr., Frankfort, Ky.
W. Armistead Collier, Jr., Memphis, Tenn.
William F. Jones, Elberton, Ga.
R. B. Haughton, St. Louis, Mo.
Homer D. Wade, Waco, Texas.
Rev. J. M. Gross, Vinita, Ind. Ty.
Duncan U. Fletcher, Jacksonville, Fla.
W. H. McLellan, New Orleans, La.
Prof. D. Y. Thomas, Conway, Ark.
L. S. Boyd, Washington, D. C.
J. Mercer Garnett, Baltimore, Md.
Marshall D. Haywood, Raleigh, N. C.

Immediately following my appointment, or on October 19th, 1903, I wrote at length to the several members of the Committee, calling attention to their appointment, and urging the importance of the historical features of our organization. Necessary official literature was placed in their hands, and they were asked to take up carefully their work as set forth in Sections 2, 5, 6, 9, 90 and 92, of our Constitution. It was pointed out that the Chairman must not be relied upon to do all the work, and they were asked to act in their particular fields in such way as seemed to them conducive of the best results.

COMMITTEE ACTIVITIES.

In a general way the activities of the Committee have been directed to the development of every phase of our history, as well as historical effort in the South. By correspondence and discussion an effort has been made to impress upon our members and others the fact that ours is a patriotic, historical and benevolent organization. This fundamental fact has been emphasized. Camp officers and members have been encouraged to collect from participants written accounts, narratives, memoirs, histories of battles, episodes and occurrences of the war; and they have been urged to gather authentic data, statistics, documents, reports, plans, maps and other material for an impartial history of the Confederate side, and to collect and preserve war relics and mementos, such as commissions, letters and other manuscripts; uniforms, swords, arms and equipment.

It is felt that our efforts have not been altogether in vain, and that much valuable material has been collected, which has appeared in the publications of societies, or in the magazine or newspaper press of the South.

COMPILATION OF WAR RECORDS.

One of the objects of our Confederation is thus set forth in our Constitution, Section 6, Article II:

"To make and perpetuate a record of the service of every member " of the United Confederate Veterans, and all other living Confederate " Veterans, and, as far as possible, of those of their comrades who have " preceded them into eternity."

This provision grew out of an exalted appreciation of the importance of preserving the records of individual soldiers. Fortunately, for the more speedy and successful accomplishment of the ends desired, Congress, on February 25th, 1903, enacted:

"That under the direction of the Secretary of War the Chief of " the Record and Pension Office shall compile, from such official records " as are in the possession of the United States, and from such other " authentic records as may be obtained by loan from the various States " and other official sources, a complete roster of the officers and enlisted " men of the Union and Confederate Armies."

Acting with commendable promptness the Secretary of War addressed a communication to the Governors of the several States, announcing his readiness to proceed at once with the compilation, and inviting the co-operation of States, societies and individuals. The following extract from this communication will serve to set forth the wishes and views of the department:

"There will be little or no difficulty in making the Union part of " the roster complete, but there will be great difficulty with regard to " the Confederate, partly because of the incompleteness of the collec- " tion of Confederate records in the possession of this Department. It " is of the first importance, therefore, that no effort shall be spared to " secure the temporary loan to the War Department, for the purpose of " copying, of any and all authentic Confederate records that can be " found anywhere. Many of these records are in the possession of the " various States, and it is hoped will be made readily accessible, but " there are others that are widely scattered among historical and memo- " rial associations and private citizens. The problem of how to find " and procure the loan of these scattered records is a difficult one, but is " one that must be solved in order that the Confederate soldier shall " receive the full credit that is due him in the roster that is to be " compiled."

The appointment of Roster Commissioners followed, and so far as I can learn they have been earnest in their efforts to render all possible assistance. I have been in correspondence with the Commissioners, and am able to bring you the gratifying information that the compilation will be approximately complete for nearly every Southern State.

As Chairman of the Historical Committee I have urged our members everywhere to aid this worthy enterprise. I have in numbers of ways encouraged the work in various States, and I am the official Roster Commissioner for Alabama.

I renew the appeal that I have constantly made, that all individuals, Camps of Confederate Veterans, Camps of Sons of Veterans, Chapters of the Daughters of the Confederacy, and Historical Societies, having rosters, muster or pay-rolls, war diaries or journals, reports, commissions, discharges, paroles, or other war papers, should forward them to the Commissioners for their respective States in order that full credit may be given in the rosters being compiled.

CONFEDERATE FLAGS.

A detailed history of the flags of the Confederate States, or of the flags, banners, markers, and guidons, in use in the South, whether as State emblems, or by the soldiers in their several commands, is now in process of compilation by Mr. P. D. Harrison, of Manchester, N. H. Valuable assistance has been extended Mr. Harrison. He has had reasonable success in collecting data, and I am sure his work will be creditable. He is still anxious to obtain additional information, and all persons having facts concerning flags, should communicate with him at once.

I wish to suggest here that it is the duty of all Sons of Confederate Veterans to assist their State museums or other depositories in bringing together into official custody all surviving flags or similar relics.

STATE DEPARTMENTS OF ARCHIVES AND HISTORY.

The example set by Alabama, in the establishment, February 27th, 1901, of a Department of Archives and History as a separate department of State, correlating other departments, through which all of its obligations to its archives (public records) and history should be met, has encouraged the belief, from its successful operation, that such an agency is the very best and most satisfactory way of meeting this public duty. Just one year later Mississippi created a similar Department, now in successful operation. The Chairman of this Committee, who is the author of the Aabama Department Act, had, previous to his appointment as Chairman, done everything possible to give publicity to his plan. It received the official endorsement of two successive committees of this body, and also of the Virginia Division, U. S. C. V. It has had the unqualified endorsement of students and history workers. The act has been printed and distributed far and wide.

The first Chairman of this Committee, William F. Jones, of Georgia, made an effort to secure the passage of a similar act for his State. Although he failed in his direct purpose, the Legislature of Georgia, nevertheless, created, December 16th, 1902, the office of Compiler of Georgia Records. On August 15th, 1903, in order to secure more satisfactory results a Georgia Soldier Roster Commission was created, with an appropriation of five thousand dollars, charged with the particular duty of compiling a "roll of the Georgia soldiers, sailors, and marines," in the Confederate or State service, 1861-1865.

In Florida, May 14th, 1903, an act was passed providing for the compilation and publication, under a Roster Commissioner, of a history and roster of all soldiers for that State in any and all wars in which they have served.

Virginia, May 7th, 1904, created the office of Secretary of Confederate Records, whose duties are to collect all records of Confederate soldiers and sailors from Virginia, and to co-operate with the U. S. War Department in making the compilation of rosters authorized by Congress.

In Mississippi, Georgia, Florida and Virginia, THE PARTICULAR AGENCIES ADOPTED are the direct result of the agitation in behalf of State-supported historical work which had its first affirmative expression in the establishment of the Alabama Department of Archives and History.

Whether the State is to meet its duty in the premises by creating a separate Department of State, or by voting appropriations to Historical Societies, seems to have so far been settled in the South in favor of the former idea or plan. That this plan will ultimately prevail in the whole South can hardly be doubted.

As it has done in the past, this Committee can in future perform no higher duty than to co-operate in securing the establishment of such departments, for if created, from them in each State will radiate an influence which will lead to the early and ready accomplishment of our cherished historical objects.

MISCELLANEOUS.

In addition to the foregoing, the Committee has given much time and attention to many other matters of importance. It has endeavored to secure the use of sound and correct historical books in our schools, it has encouraged the marking of historical sites, and has begun the collection of data in reference to Southern monuments, it has encouraged the marking of sites and the erection of monuments in the National military parks located in the South; and it has encouraged the periodical publications devoted to our "Cause."

A careful report on our Confederation as an historical organization was prepared for the Carnegie Institution, for use in its "Handbook to Literary and Learned Societies."

Some progress has been made in the preparation of a bibliography of all current war literature, with critical notes and estimates. The plan involves a regular continuation, and also the compilation of all early titles until a full bibliography of the war between the States has been completed.

CONCLUSION.

The foregoing represents in bare outline some of the efforts of the present Historical Committee during the eight months of its existence. We have hardly been able to do more than organize and project plans when the time has come for us to give an account of our stewardship and to surrender our commissions. Should we be called into service for the coming year, our experience will fit us for wider achievement.

The Chairman desires to make public acknowledgment for such help as has been extended by his associates and others; and particularly to the Commander-in-chief, Hon. William McL. Fayssoux, for numerous courtesies.

THOMAS M OWEN,
Chairman.

It was moved and duly seconded that the report be adopted. Carried.

Comrade J. C. Davidson, Commandant Camp Broadus, Louisville, Ky., extended an invitation to the Convention to come with the Veterans to Louisville, in 1905.

Comrade Haughton extended an invitation to the Sons to attend the reception at the Missouri Bldg., St. Louis, on June 20th.

It was moved and duly seconded that report of the Historical Committee be printed in separate form and distributed.

Comrade Crane reported that the Committee had extended greetings to the Veterans, and their reception by the Veterans in Convention assembled was enthusiastic.

Comrade J. A. Webb, of St. Louis, offered the following resolution:

RESOLUTION.

Resolved, that a Committee of Three be appointed to consult with the publishers of the American Magazine, of St. Louis, Mo., and that said Committee be authorized to enter into a contract in conformity with the proposition submitted to the Sons of Confederate Veterans by the American Magazine.

Resolved, that when such Committee reports to the officers of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, that their report be sent to the membership of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, and therewith the request that every member act in conformity with such report and recommendations.

Moved and seconded that the resolution be received and referred to the Historical Committee with full power to act. Carried.

Dr. Samuel E. Lewis, of Washington, D. C., was introduced. Dr. Lewis spoke in favor of the Government appropriation for the care of Confederate graves; and was about to read a resolution, when Comrade Owen arose and informed him that the said resolution had been adopted by the Convention.

Comrade Hindman reported enthusiastic reception at the Veterans Convention.

General C. Irvine Walker, of Virginia, addressed the Convention, and stated that the United Confederate Veterans desired the Sons to erect the Monument to the Women of the South, and had passed a resolution to that effect.

Comrade Mann arose and offered the following resolution which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, that we accept willingly the responsibility the Veterans have placed upon us of erecting a memorial to the Women of the Confederacy, and that we pledge our sacred honor to the consummation of this labor of love.

Resolved, further, that a Committee of Three be appointed to communicate this resolution to the United Confederate Veterans now in Convention assembled.

JAMES MANN.

The Chair appointed the following Committee:

James Mann, Virginia; T. Sydney Frazer, Alabama; R. A. Tichenor, Louisiana.

Comrade Haughton read the report of his Committee upon the closer relations of the United Confederate Veterans and United Sons of Confederate Veterans.

Nashville, Tenn., June 14th, 1904.

To the United Sons of Confederate Veterans:

Your Committee, appointed to co-operate with a like Committee representing the Union Confederate Veterans, in the matter of forming a closer Union between the two, respectfully begs leave to report as follows:

Your Committee has had considerable correspondence with the Chairman of the Veterans' Committee, during the past year, which resulted in an agreement upon a joint circular-letter to be issued to both the Confederations, which said circular-letter was issued by the Commander-in-chief of this Confederation under date of March 15th, 1904.

A joint meeting of both Committees was held in this City on June 13th, 1904, at which the subjects within our jurisdiction were gone over fully, and it was decided not to press further, at the present time, the matter of Union. It was the opinion of a number of the Veterans' Committee that we had gone as far for this year as was advisable. They felt that the importance of our undertaking was so great that it would be unwise to jeopardize its success by pressing the matter and that much greater haste would be accomplished in the end by proceeding slowly at the present time.

Very great privileges have been granted us already, particularly among them are the following:

All of our members are entitled to all of the privileges of the floor of every meeting of the Veterans, except the right to vote; we are especially requested to be present at the Opening and Memorial Meetings; and in all such gatherings our officers are requested to take places on the platform with officers of similar rank in the Veterans organization. We have been requested to act as special escort of the Veterans in all parades.

The Veterans are particularly anxious that we omit all insignia of rank in our uniforms, and that we use no military titles to designate the rank of our various officers. While your Committee feels that many of our members are in favor of the use of both of these, we feel that the will of the Veterans should prevail, and that we should carry out their request concerning them.

The Chairman of your Committee feels that it is due him to say that our present uniform was adopted after very extensive correspondence with a high official of the Veterans organization, who was well qualified to advise him in the matter, and that it was upon the repeated advice of said official that our uniform was incorporated, as it is, into our Constitution. It was with considerable hesitancy that your Chairman finally agreed to this suggestion. He knows that said official was thoroughly sincere in his advice and suggestion; but he feels now that he was mistaken as to the views that would be held by the great mass of the Veterans upon the matter. There is no question that the further use of either title or insignia by us would be the source of a great deal of regret, criticism, and even displeasure on the part of the Veterans. It is a very serious matter with them, and their feeling upon it is intense.

It is their special desire, however, that our uniforms be of the historic gray in color.

They desire, also, that our members attend their meetings as often as possible, and that we use all possible means to acquaint ourselves with the various events of the war. Your Committee feels that in order to secure this latter result, we should have their various members present at our Camp Meetings as often as possible. We should attend their meetings as much as possible, and should shorten our meetings at all Reunions, to the furthest extent, so as to give our members time to attend the other meetings.

Suitable amendments covering the foregoing are hereto attached as a part of this report as was enjoined upon your Committee by the last Reunion.

This is the first year in which any attempt to inaugurate the matter of consolidation has been made, and we have been most generously treated in the arrangement of the program.

Our representatives are not only given all the privileges above mentioned, but also we are specially requested to have a representative make a response to the general address of welcome, and to speak for us at the Memorial Meetings. It is most sincerely hoped that everything possible will be done by us to make the movement a success.

Most respectfully submitted,

R. B. HAUGHTON,
Chairman

Received and laid over.

General Walker addressed the Convention, stating he feared that the abuse of ranks and titles might threaten the closer relationship of the two organizations.

Comrade Collier offered the following resolution:

Whereas, In view of the following facts set forth in the Supplementary Report of the past Historical Committee:

(1). That the Archives of the State of Tennessee have been found by a Committee of the last Legislature to be in a deplorable condition—many of the most valuable State records having been allowed to go to ruin from neglect;

(2). That the Archives of the State of Mississippi were in a like condition previous to the establishment of a State Department, known as the "Department of Archives and History;" and, therefore,

(3). That in all probability similar conditions exist in other States of the South;

And Whereas, We believe the preservation of the historical material to be a sacred duty which we owe to our State and Country, to our forefathers, ourselves and posterity; and one of the high objects for the existence of our organization of Sons of Confederate Veterans;

And Whereas, It has been demonstrated by the States of Alabama and Mississippi, that this object can be best accomplished by the creation and maintainance of a separate department of State, devoted to "the care and custody of official Archives, the collection of materials bearing upon the history of the State, the completion and publication of the State's official records, and other historical materials, the diffusion of knowledge in reference to history and resources of the State, the encouragement of the historical work and research," etc.; and that such department can be maintained and do efficient service at an expense of $2,500.00 a year;

Be it therefore Resolved, that, We, the United Sons of Confederate Veterans, in Convention-assembled, do hereby endorse and commend the efforts of the States of Alabama and Mississippi; and we do hereby pledge ourselves, as an organization, as camps and as individuals, to bring about the early establishment in every State in the South, of similar departments to those now in successful operation in the above named States: the purpose of such departments being—to save from neglect, loss and destruction, the Archives of the States; to collect, preserve, edit, and make known its invaluable records, and all public documents and material, which will be necessary in the future, to a true knowledge and understanding of State and Southern history.

Be it Further Resolved, That the movement to establish these departments be put in charge of a special Committee, which shall be appointed for no other purpose, and with no other end in view; that this Committee be designated, "The Committee on the Establishment of Departments of History;" that it be made up only of comrades who are so much interested in the movement, that they will pledge themselves before appointment, to appear before the Legislatures of their respective States, and bear their own expenses in using every honorable means to secure the enactment of laws establishing such departments in every State, where, after personal investigation, the same are found to be needed.

Be it Further Resolved, That we hereby call upon the Governors of the Southern States to recommend the passage of such laws, as aforesaid; and that we invite the co-operation of all patriotic organizations and historical societies in the South.

After some discussion the resolution was adopted.

Convention adjourned until 2:30 p. m.

Wednesday Afternoon—June 15th.

Convention called to order at 3.01 p. m.

Comrade Owen, Chairman Credential Committee, reported that Camp Cabell 49, of Dallas, Texas, had been added to the list of Camps in good standing, with a membership of 640, entitled to sixty-four votes.

Report received and adopted.

All Committees and Officers who had not reported were called, but no other reports were received.

Comrade Tichenor moved that the History of the Ladies Memorial Association's be endorsed by the Sons of Veterans. Seconded and carried.

Comrade Mann, Chairman of the Women's Memorial Committee, stated that the work of raising the funds for the monument was not progressing satisfactorily. He said nearly $5,000 had been subscribed, but had not been paid, although repeated requests were made for its payment. Camps owing the money in some instances even failed to reply, and none of the three hundred camps that had not subscribed would answer the letters. He declared that whenever a speech was made on the floor in which the Women of the Confederacy were mentioned the Convention nearly went wild, but that frequently the men applauding were men who had not answered the letters written them. It was disagreeable, he said, to have to talk to his comrades in terms almost amounting to a lecture, but he felt it his duty. He thought each man should go about the work of raising the fund as though it were a duty to be done and not merely an honor to be conferred. He suggested the expenditure of about $500 of the money on hand in order to widely advertise the movement. If the monument is not built by the Sons of United Confederate Veterans, he said, it would not be built at all, as it was up to them. Comrade Mann's report on the Women's Memorial was accepted, and a vote of thanks tendered him.

On motion of Comrade Mann a resolution was adopted appointing a Committee of Three to investigate the affairs of the fiduciary officers, past and present, of the Association. Comrades Payne, of Alabama; Daniels, of Mississippi, and Bell, of Arkansas, were constituted such Committee.

Comrade Tichenor of the Louisiana Division submitted a report showing subscriptions during the past year to the Women's Memorial fund amounting to $625.

The report of the Joint Committee on closer relationship with the Veterans, Comrade Haughton, Chairman Sons Committee, was taken up and read. It contained the following recommendation for

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION.

Repeal Section 57, Article 9, of the Constitution, and adopt in lieu thereof the following:

The Annual Convention or Reunion shall be called to order by the Commander of the Camp where the meeting is held. After prayer by the Chaplain-General (or in his absence the ranking Chaplain) it shall be turned over, by short formalities without addresses, to the commanding officers, in turn to the Commander-in-chief, who will take charge of the Reunion and instruct the Adjutant-General to call the roll of General Officers of the Confederation, and of its Camps in numerical order. As the Camps are called, the Chairman of each delegation will answer, and hand to the Adjutant-General the credentials of his delegation.

The Commander-in-chief shall then appoint a Committee on Credentials, to whom shall be referred all the credentials of delegates. This Committee shall verify these by report of Adjutant-General; arrange the roll of the Convention and assign each Camp its number of votes. This report shall be signed by the Committee and handed to the Commander-in-chief. After the approval of this, the meeting shall proceed to business on the basis fixed herein.

Repeal Section 70, Article 12, and adopt in lieu thereof the following:

The uniform for members shall be a single breasted blouse coat, reaching about to the crutch, with turn down collar, one row of buttons (seven in number) down the front, three buttons on the rear of each sleeve, collar to be trimmed with small flat worsted braid (color to indicate the arm of service), about one-fourth of an inch wide, cuffs trimmed with small braid two and one-half inches from end on bottom side and slope upwards to a point four inches from the end of the sleeve, coat to be without further braid decorations of any kind, except as especially mentioned in this section, without stars, wreaths or facings, and with a shoulder strap on each shoulder of white wool cloth with gold border, and the letters "U. S. C. V." in the center.

The trousers of ordinary cut with strip one-half an inch wide down each outer leg side; color indicating the arm of service.

Gray Confederate hat.

The cloth of coat and trousers to be Confederate gray. White duck vest with row of "U. S. C. V." buttons down the center, or no vest, at the option of the wearer.

Where details are not given they shall be the same as those provided for Camp Uniform by the "U. C. V." as set forth in the appendix annexed hereto, which describes the uniform adopted by the Confederate States of America, and is made a part hereof, substituting the letters "U. S. C. V." for "U. C. V." wherever they occur. Leggings, spurs, belts, etc., to be as described in the above.

For all officers the uniform shall be the same as provided for members, with the following substitutions:

On each collar a rectangular panel of gold thread enclosing words or initials designating the office of the wearer.

The following Article and Sections should be added:

ARTICLE XIX½

CLOSER UNION WITH UNITED CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

Section 107a. All members shall attend the opening meetings and memorial meetings of the United Confederate Veterans, and they shall occupy such places and perform such duties as may be assigned to them.

Section 107b. In order to give members the most possible time for these duties, the time assigned for the meetings of the Confederation shall be limited as much as possible, and shall cover such hours (if possible) as will not conflict with those during which the sessions of the U. C. V. will be held.

All members of the U. C. V. are hereby given all the privileges of every gathering of the members of this Confederation, except the right to vote, and are cordially invited always to be present at such.

All Camps shall, as often as may be possible, invite Veterans to address them, and all members shall, by intercourse with Veterans, and in every other way possible, ascertain all the facts and incidents of the War which is the cause of our Confederation.

In all parades our members shall be the special escort of the U. C. V., and shall take such places therein as may be assigned to them.

The various sections touching a close union with the U. C. V. shall apply to all subdivisions of this Confederation, and each is enjoined to at once put them into effect within its jurisdiction.

Wherever a Camp of the U. C. V. permit members of this Confederation to become members of it, this privilege should, at once, be exercised by all members of the U. S. C. V. Camp.

Section 107c. A Standing Committee of five members, to be known as, "The Committee on Closer Union," shall be appointed by the Commander-in-chief to co-operate with such Committee as may be appointed by the U. C. V., and in other ways to see to the carrying out of the foregoing provisions, and to devise and execute other plans for a closer and more permanent union with the U. C. V.; provided, that said Committee shall not have power to act contrary to any provision of this Constitution.

The question was raised that said report involved Constitutional Amendments and that the proper notice had not been given.

The Chair ruled that as a Committee had been appointed at the last Convention, made a report to that Convention, and that, as that Convention had authorized a new Committee to be appointed to draft amendments along the lines of the said report; this action in Convention assembled, coupled with the issuance of the minutes of said Convention, and notice in General Orders issued to that effect, that the amendments would be offered, was sufficient compliance with the constitutional provisions.

Comrade Hume appealed from the ruling of the Chair.

Comrade Crawford claimed that proper notice had not been given, and the Constitution required a strict interpretation.

Comrade Haughton spoke upon the importance of adopting these amendments.

Comrade Hume withdrew his appeal.

Comrade Stockett protested against the ruling of the Chair, and renewed the appeal.

At this point the Sponsor-in-chief, Miss Corinne Tebault, was introduced, and received the greatest ovation occurring during the Convention.

Comrade Stockett then made motion for a roll-call, and same was seconded and carried—304 against the ruling—217 in favor of the ruling of the Chair.

Appeal sustained.

Comrade Owen moved that the report, in so far as it did not amend the Constitution, be adopted. Seconded and carried.

The following were then presented for consideration:

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO CONSTITUTION OFFERED BY N. R. TISDAL, FORT WORTH, TEXAS.

TO AMEND ARTICLE IV, SECTION XI.

By adding, or who had male relatives such as Brothers or Uncles in actual service, and who, himself, was too young to engage in the service, and where all their sympathies were known to be with the South. Providing nothing in this clause shall apply to descendants of deserters.

ARTICLE VI, SECTION XXVII.

The Commander-in-chief shall be the head of this Confederation and supreme in command over all its officers, whether they be elective or appointive, and shall enforce its Constitution, rules and regulations, and the will of its Annual Reunion, and to this effect may issue all necessary orders. He shall preside over the Annual Reunion of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans, and shall decide all questions of law, order of usage. He shall be empowered and required to remove or reprimand officers of the Confederation for remissness of duty as his judgment may dictate, and it is expressly understood that this authority shall extend over all Departments and Divisions of the Confederation. Subject in all such decisions and acts to appeal to the next Annual Reunion. Immediately after entering upon his office he shall appoint his staff and all other general officers and committees not otherwise provided for, and he shall be empowered to act for the good of the Confederation, as circumstances in his judgment may require, in cases not provided for in this Constitution. During the interim between the Reunions, he shall have full charge of the conduct of the officers of the Confederation, amenable in all cases to the next Reunion.

ARTICLE VI, SECTION XXVII. A.

In the event charges are preferred against the Commander-in-chief, it is provided that the executive heads of the three Departments shall sit in judgment on said trial and render verdict, subject in all such decisions and acts to appeal to the next Annual Reunion. Provided, that the limit of appeal shall not extend beyond thirty days after decision is rendered.

TO AMEND ARTICLE VI, BY ADDING SECTION XXX. A.

It shall be the duty of all officers, elective or appointive, to promptly comply with all requests of superior officers in furnishing of any information or issuance of orders necessary to the carrying on of the work of the Confederation, and further, prompt attention to all correspondence relative to organization of new camps, issuance of charters, forfeiture of membership, selection of Committees, etc., and any officer failing to carry out said provision shall be removed immediately upon the preferment of charges of any member or officer of this Confederation, and the next in rank shall assume charge of his office until his innocence or guilt is proven, or until his successor is elected or appointed, or otherwise, as provided by the Constitution.

ARTICLE XII, SECTION 70.

To amend by striking out Section 70, in its entirety, and substituting the following:

The following uniform is hereby adopted for this Confederation:

The same uniform, insignia, trappings, etc., as have been adopted by the United Confederate Veterans, with the following exceptions, to-wit: The letters "U. S. C. V." instead of "U. C. V.," wherever it may occur on the uniform (including buttons and trappings), and hat the same as used by the "U. C. V.," or a grey Confederate cap, at the option of the Camp or wearer.

TO AMEND ART. XIII BY ADDING SEC. 77 A, AS FOLLOWS:

The Commander-in-chief shall be empowered to authorize the formation of uniform companies in all Camps where sufficient membership is enrolled—if Camp so desires—for the purpose of giving exhibition and competitive drills at all National Reunions. It being expressly understood that the uniform shall conform to Section 70, of Article XII, that Hardie's Tactics shall govern in all drills and contests.

TO AMEND SECTION 88, ARTICLE XIV.

By striking out the word (not) in the second line and substituting the word (and) for the word (or) where it first occurs in the same line.

TO AMEND ARTICLE XV, BY ADDING AS BELOW, IN LIEU OF SECTION 89.

Any elective or appointive officer who shall fail to carry out the provisions of this Constitution or instructions of the National or State Reunions, as may have jurisdiction, upon proof, shall be removed from further duty until such time as he may file conclusive documentary evidence of his innocence of charge or charges preferred against him.

ART. XV, TO AMEND SEC. 88, TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

Forfeiture of membership shall be declared against any Camp committing an act repugnant to this Constitution, or detrimental to the object and purposes of the Cofederation; and against any Camp in arrears for three years' dues, which remain unpaid after written notice by the Adjutant General, and said Camp's name and number stricken from the rolls.

ART. XVII, TO AMEND BY ADDING SEC. 95, A, AS FOLLOWS:

Auditing Committee to audit the accounts of all officers through whom cash transactions of any nature are made, or who shall handle or disburse the funds of the Confederation. They shall make a full and comprehensive report to the Commander-in-chief as often as necessity may require of the finances of the Confederation as distributed to the several Departments and Division Headquarters, and the Auditing Committee of various Departments and Divisions shall make report to the Committee in duplicate with that made to their respective heads.

TO AMEND ART. XVIII, SEC. 101.

By striking out the entire section as it now reads, and substituting as follows:

A yearly per capita tax of 15 cents shall be paid by each Camp for every active member in good standing.

TO AMEND ART. XVIII, SEC. 105, TO READ:

The per capita tax of 15 cents shall be apportioned as follows: Nine cents to General Headquarters, two cents to Department Headquarters, from which it was paid, and four cents to Division Headquarters, from which it was paid.

Commander-in-chief, Department and Division Commanders may appoint a young lady assistant for each member of his staff, if they so desire, it being expressly stipulated that selections so authorized must be governed by the same rules as those laid down for the selection of sponsors. They to bear the same rank and wear the same uniform as their principal.

That sponsors may be separated from the general crowd and Camp, Brigade, Division, Department sponsors, and Sponsors-in-chief, may be more readily distinguished, it is ordered that all sponsors shall wear the uniform and bear the rank of chief of staff from whatever Camp, Brigade, Division or Department, from which they are selected, and the wearing of the full uniform made a requisite for full recognition of said sponsor.

Immediately after adjournment of each National Reunion the retiring officers shall turn over to their successors all funds and records in their possession, without delay, except that the Adjutant General retiring shall promptly prepare the minutes of the sessions under his jurisdiction, and when they shall have been prepared they shall be turned over to his successor, who shall in turn call for the bids necessary for their proper publication—as provided for in another section.

That the funds of this Confederation may be safeguarded, it is provided that money received as per capita tax, and from the sale of supplies, shall be expended only for the purchase of office supplies, such as necessary blanks and office stationery, postage, printing of the minutes of the National Convention and issuance of the general orders, and for the transmission of telegrams wherever they are necessary in the conduct of the affairs of the Confederation. In no instance are they to be used in defraying the personal expenses of any officer of this Confederation, or, of his appointees, in attending National or State Reunions, or in traveling to or from any point, even though travel be necessary to the welfare of the Confederation, except as provided for in Sec. 104, Art. XVIII, except that funds may be provided out of the general revenues for carrying out the work of Standing Committees by act of the National body in Convention assembled. And that by resolution, salary may be allowed the retiring Commander-in-chief for a stenographer for a period not in excess of two and a half months, at a rate not in excess of $40.00 per month. All bills so rendered to the General Convention must bear attached affidavit of the party so benefitted.

It is ordered by the Confederation that all printing or purchase of supplies shall be ordered or made after competitive bids have been asked for and received, and that the lowest and best bidder shall receive the award, provided, however, that the bidder shall make sufficient guarantee of his or their ability to carry out the contract according to specifications and agreement.

Any Article or Section of the Constitution and By-Laws in conflict with the above mentioned are hereby repealed.

At this time the proceedings of the Convention were interrupted for all present to enjoy the rich contralto voice of Miss Correl Keller, who sang several of the old, sweet Southern songs.

Comrade Tichenor moved that "The Southern Monthly" be be endorsed as the official organ of the U. S. C. V. Seconded and carried.

Comrade Tisdal arose and called for the consideration of the proposed amendments to the Constitution as set forth above notice thereof having been previously given.

It was moved and duly seconded that the Adjutant General read the amendments article by article. Carried.

Adjutant General Hall read first amendment, amendment to Article IV, Section XI.

Comrade Owen, after a strong speech against by Comrade H. T. Becket, of Georgia, moved to table the amendment. Carried unanimously.

Comrade Owen moved to take up and consider amendment to Article XII, Section 70. Amendment to Article XII, Section 70, was then read.

Comrade Owen moved to amend said amendment by substituting therefor the amendment to the same section, offered by Comrade Haughton, in his report of the Joint Committee on Closer Relation with the Veterans. Seconded.

Comrade Stockett suggested the substitution of the letters U. S. C. V. on collar in place of shoulder straps. Accepted by Comrade Owen.

Comrade Mann suggested the adoption of the gray campaign hat.

Comrade Tichenor moved that the amendment of Comrade Haughton, as amended, be read:

"The uniform for members shall be, a single breasted blouse coat, reaching about to the crutch, with turn down collar; one row of buttons (seven in number) down the front, three buttons on rear of each sleeve; collar to be turned down with small flat, worsted braid, (color to indicate arm of service) about one-fourth of an inch wide; cuffs trimmed with small braid two and one-half inches from end, on bottom side, and slope upwards to a point four inches from end of the sleeve, coat to be without further braid or decorations of any kind, except as especially mentioned in this section, without stars, wreaths or facings, and with the letters 'U. S. C. V.' in gold, on each collar. Trousers of ordinary cut, with stripe one-half inch wide down each outer leg side, color indicating arm of service. The cloth of coat and trousers to be Confederate Grey. White duck vest, with row of U. S. C. V. buttons down the centre, or no vest, at the option of wearer.

The hat to be the 'Regulation Grey Campaign Hat.' Where details are not given, they shall be the same as those provided for Camp uniforms by the U. C. V., as set forth in the appendix annexed hereto, which describes the uniform adopted by the Confederate States of America, and is made part hereof, substituting the letters U. S. C. V. for U. C. V., wherever they occur.

Leggings, spurs, belts, etc., to be as described in the above.

For all officers the uniform shall be the same as provided for members, with the following substitutions: On each collar a rectangular panel of gold thread, enclosing words or initials designating the office of the wearer."

This amendment, as read, was unanimously adopted.

Comrade Tisdal moved that amendment to Article XV be taken up for consideration.

Comrade Mann moved to table the amendment, duly seconded. Amendment tabled.

Comrade Haughton moved to take up and consider amendment to Article XVII by adding Section 95A.

Comrade Haughton moved to substitute the following for said amendment:

"All members of the U. C. V. are hereby given all the privileges of every gathering of the members of this Confederation, except the right to vote; all are cordially invited always to be present at such."

Duly seconded and carried.

Upon motion duly made and seconded the other amendments offered by Comrade Tisdal were laid on the table.

Comrade Payne, of Alabama, offered the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the Chairman of the Committee on a Memorial to the Women of the Confederacy, be, and he is hereby authorized to expend such amount of the funds in the hands of his Committee as he may deem advisable for the purpose of advertising and further prosecuting the work of his Committee."

Same was duly seconded and adopted.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The election of Officers for the ensuing year was then taken up. W. P. Lane, Division Commander of Texas, placed in nomination the name of N. R. Tisdal, of Fort Worth, the son of a Confederate private soldier, an organizer of the Chapter of D. A. R.

Past Commander R. B. Haughton placed in nomination the name of W. E. Daniel, of Yazoo City, Miss.

Comrade Kirk, of Oklahoma, seconded the nomination of N. R. Tisdal, and W. W. Crane, of Jackson, Tenn., seconded the nomination of W. E. Daniel.

On motion of Thomas C. Hindman, of Joe Johnston Camp, he was allowed to pay the per capita tax of that Camp. It was stated that owing to the press of business the Commandant had failed to do so. The Trans-Mississippi delegation opposed, but the opposition was withdrawn when they were reminded that the Convention had been the guests of Joe Johnston Camp for three days.

Thomas M. Owen, of Alabama, seconded the nomination of Comrade Daniel.

Comrade Daniel's nomination was further seconded by Comrades Becket, of Georgia; Tichenor, of Louisiana; Payne, of Alabama; Higgs, of Tennessee; Mann, of Virginia, and other Comrades.

Balloting then proceeded, the vote of Joe Johnston Camp was cast for R. E. L. Bynum, of Jackson, Tenn., by Comrade Thomas C. Hindman; but before roll-call was finished Past Commander Haughton withdrew the name of W. E.

Daniel, and the election of N. R. Tisdal was made unanimous. The latter made a brief speech of thanks from the rostrum.

Comrade Gathright nominated J. J. Davis, of Louisville, for Commander of the Army of Northern Virginia Department, which was duly seconded.

There being no other nominations, Comrade Davis was declared the unanimous choice of the Convention.

Comrade J. Stockett placed in nomination Comrade R. E. L. Bynum for Commander of the Department of the Army of Tennessee.

Comrade Daniel, of Mississippi, placed in nomination Comrade W. H. Payne, of Alabama. Comrade Payne declined to run, and moved that Comrade Bynum's election be made unanimous. Same duly seconded and carried.

Comrade N. R. Tisdal, of Texas, placed in nomination Comrade C. A. Skean, of Indian Territory, for Commander of the Trans-Mississippi Department. There being no other nominations Comrade Kean was declared the choice by the Convention.

Comrade Owen, of Alabama, offered the following resolution, which was, on motion, duly seconded, and adopted.

"Resolved, That the United Sons of Confederate Veterans in Convention assembled, do hereby extend grateful acknowledgment to the Confederate Veterans, the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the Sons of Confederate Veterans, Camp Joe Johnston, and their Commandant, John H. DeWitt, the press, and the citizens of Nashville, for numerous courtesies tendered during this Reunion, and also to the several railroad lines which have given reduced rates."

Comrade Owen offered the following resolution also, which was, on motion, adopted unanimously, with much enthusiasm:

"Resolved, That the heartfelt thanks of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans are due William McL. Fayssoux, Commander-in-chief; W. Covington Hall, Adjutant General and Chief of Staff; Tiley S. McChesney, Quartermaster General, and W. L. Wooten, Assistant Adjutant General, for their untiring and faithful labors in behalf of our noble organization, and we do most earnestly congratulate them on the success which has so abundantly crowned their official labors."

The Convention adjourned sine die.

W. COVINGTON HALL,
Adjt.-Gen. and Chief of Staff.

Social Side of the Reunion.

THE SONS' BALL.

The Sons of Veterans ball at the Capitol last evening was one of the most brilliantly devised hospitalities given for reunion visitors, and was witnessed by hundreds of visitors, who crowded the galleries and other places thrown open to spectators, as well as the many who took an active part in the gaities of the evening. Like the Governor's ball the preceding evening, the scene when the representative visitors from all the country were assembled, was an animated and memorable one. The Capitol building, outlined in brilliant electric bulbs, the approach up the front steps, lined with on-lookers, the decorations inside of quantities of flags and bunting, with palms effectively placed and innumerable bouquets of cut flowers, made a picturesque ensemble which will be a vivid and pleasing memory to the guests of last evening.

Joseph E. Johnston Camp No. 28, were the hosts of the occasion, and under the efficient direction of Commandant John H. DeWitt, Hon. John Early, Chairman of Reception; Hon. William E. Ward and Hon. Howard Frost, Floor Managers, the ball was smoothly conducted. The famous Seventh Regiment Band played during the reception hours.

The company of guests included gray-haired veterans, soldiers in handsome uniforms, representative men and women who seldom grace a social occasion by their presence, dozens of pretty sponsors and maids in handsome evening toilettes, while the glittering of costly jewels and of the gold buttons and braid so pleasing to feminine eyes the world over, made a dazzling spectacle.

The guests were received in the library, and until 12 o'clock promenaded in the corridors and in the Senate Chamber. Promptly at 12 o'clock the great doors of the Hall of Representatives were thrown open and the ball began. It was opened by a grand march, led by Miss Corinne Tebault of New Orleans, sponsor for the United Sons of Confederate Veterans, also chief sponsor for the United Confederate Veterans, with the retiring Commander-in-chief, Wm. McL. Fayssoux. Afterwards Miss Tebault opened the ball, and the scene beneath the radiating canopy of electric lights, which extended to the corners of the room, was brilliant.

Especial guests of honor were the sponsors and maids for the United Confederate Veterans and for the United Sons of Confederate Veterans, from all over the South and West. Miss Tebault appeared in an exquisite creation of pale golden brocade, with a flounce and bertha of rose pointe lace and a skirt panel spangled in golden sequins. She wore a wreath of gold foliage in her hair, and carried a superb bouquet of red sweet peas tied with long streamers. Her maids, Misses Elizabeth Thomas of Nashville, and Mary K. Ewell of Norfolk, were also the recipients of much attention.

Central figures at the ball were three popular Nashville girls, who were sponsor and maids of honor of Joseph E. Johnston Camp, the hosts of the affair. Miss Mary Richardson, sponsor, appeared in a pale blue point d'esprit, with the corsage outlined in festoons of white lace and spangled in silver. She carried a bouquet of red sweet peas, fringed with the same white flowers, presented by the Camp which she represented. Her maids were Miss Julia Dudley, who was costumed in a pink pompadour mousseline with ruchings of rose ribbon, and Miss Lorraine Meeks, who wore a white silk mousseline finished in silk lace. Both young ladies carried clusters of pink sweet peas, also the gifts of Joseph E. Johnston Camp. The sponsor for the State of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans, Miss Nell Carey of Memphis, wore a picturesque evening toilette of rainbow-tinted pina cloth, lace-trimmed.

The receiving party included, in addition to the visiting officals of the Sons of Veterans, Chairman John Early and Mrs. John Early, Mr. and Mrs. John H. DeWitt, Gov. and Mrs. Frazier, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Hume, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Guilford Dudley, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Meeks, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Sheffield Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Walker, Mrs. John C. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Overton, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Tinssey, Maj. and Mrs. J. W. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gray, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Burch, Judge and Mrs.

John Allison, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hickman, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Burch, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Northern, Misses Mary Richardson, Lorraine Meeks, Julia Dudley, Ida Thompson, Elizabeth Thomas, Elise Polk. Messrs. S. M. Cain, T. H. Malone, Jr., W. E. Richardson, O. J. Walsh, C. C. Slaughter, C. C. Trabue, W. Nichol, A. H. Meadors, M. H. Richardson, Wade Kirkpatrick, Littleton Hickman, P. R. Cheatham, W. P. Rutland, J. W. Gaines, H. S. Frazer, Robin Jones, S. A. Cunningham, C. S. Pilcher, L. G. O'Bryan and George Frazer.

In the absence of the Commander-in-chief the Sons of Confederate Veterans were under Gen. W. E. Daniel, of Mississippi, commanding the Army of Tennessee Department, who was accompanied by members of his staff as follows: Generals J. W. Stout, Adjutant General; Wm. W. Crane, Inspector General; J. A. Collinsworth, Judge Advocate General, and Cols. E. L. Fontaine, Quartermaster General, and Warwick H. Payne, Commissary General.

Miss Ethel Bailey, of Crystal Springs, Miss., department sponsor, was accompanied by Miss L. Ruth Crane, of Jackson, Tenn., maid of honor, and Mrs. I. N. Gilruth, Jr., of Yazoo City, Miss., chaperone.

The Trans-Mississippi Department was under N. R. Tisdal, Fort Worth, Tex., and staff, accompanied by a number of ladies from the department. The Army of Tennessee Department was under temporary command of Thos. M. Owen, of Montgomery, Ala., with a numerous representation of his staff and ladies, and the Army of Northern Virginia Department followed under Past Department Commander, James Mann, of Norfolk, Va.

Several of the State Divisions were well represented, and all were accompanied by ladies representing the several jurisdictions as sponsors, maids and chaperons.

Mrs. Goodlett occupied a carriage with several prominent Daughters of the Confederacy. Mrs. Goodlett is the founder of the Daughters of the Confederacy. The Mt. Vernon, Tex., brass band was in the fifth division. Among those riding horseback in the division, were, W. P. Lane, Division Commander of Texas, and Miss Keller, of Fort Worth, who sang so sweetly before the Convention of the United Sons of Veterans.

There was a number of carriages and vehicles in this Division, among the number being one occupied by Miss Nona Leach, of Fort Worth, Tex., sponsor for the Trans-Mississippi Department. Sons of Veterans and her maids of honor, Miss Yeates, of Fort Worth, Tex.; Miss Burnett, of Ardmore, I. T., and Miss Nell Gallagher, of Pine Bluff, Ark.

PARADE.

As usual, the march of the war-scarred Veterans of the Confederacy was the most impressive and inspirng event of the entire Reunion. Headed by their beloved Commander-in-chief, General Stephen D. Lee, his staff, sponsors, and maids, Company after Company, regiment after regiment, representing all that is left on earth of the grandest armies that ever faced a foe in battle, marched down the streets of Nashville to the music the whole South knows and loves so well, greeted and cheered along the entire route by the thousands who lined the city's streets. Brave and pathetic sight! Seen but once—remembered for age! Maimed heroes struggling on—crushed, but never conquered! With them, hundreds of old colored Confederate Soldiers whose love and faithfulness bore living witness against the lie that would tell the comng ages that our fathers had been aught but brave, noble, kind, gentle and generous gentlemen. On, on, on filed the grey clad remnant—they passed. The Sons, who, in the absence of their Commander-in-chief, Wm. McL. Fayssoux, were Commanded by Hon. W. E. Daniel, Commander of the Army of Tennessee Department, were next in line. With Commander Daniel were his staff, his sponsor, maids of honor and chaperones; then followed the Trans- Mississippi Department, commanded by Commander and Commander-in-chief elect, N. R. Tisdal, his staff, sponsors and maids; and last, the Army of Northern Virginia, commanded by Past Commander James Mann, his staff, sponsors, and maids.

Each Department had several divisions in line, and with the Divisions were the sponsors and maids representing, or, rather, incarnating the lovely States from which they came.

On that day the Old South lived once more, and here and there, on every hand, received the love and homage of the New.

And, wherever fell the eye, there it beheld the beauty and the grace for which Southern womanhood has ever and always been famed.

There, also, pleasure and enjoyment held sway into the small hours of the night, and when, at last, finis was written on the faried scene, all were profuse in their praise of Commandant John H. DeWitt and his comrade hosts.

GENERAL ORDER NO. 1.

New Orleans, La., June 15, 1903.

First.—The Commander-in-chief wishes to express his deep appreciation of the high honor conferred upon him by his election to the Commandership of the Confederation, and to assure the Comrades that every effort will be made to build up and solidify the organization. Looking forward to a year of hard and successful work, he greets you one and all, and asks for your co-operation always, and in all things.

Second.—The Commander-in-chief announces the appointment of W. Covington Hall, of New Orleans, as Adjutant General and Chief of Staff.

Third.—All official communications, reports, applications for charters, etc., must pass through regular channels, that is, from Camp to Division, from Division to Department, from Department to Headquarters, and vice versa. Department Commanders will be held strictly to account for the Divisions under their command.

Fourth.—Department Commanders are hereby requested to ascertain from their Division Commanders the condition of every Camp in their Department and to report same to the Commander-in-chief at the earliest possible moment.

Fifth.—The Commander-in-chief requests and invites the Comrades to submit any suggestions which, in their judgment, may be helpful in upbuilding and solidifying the Confederation. All communications will be given careful and prompt attention.

Sixth.—Recognizing that by the great work of his predecessors and the devotion of the rank and file that the Confederation is now one of the most influential bodies in the Southern States, the Commander-in-chief feels his responsibility keenly and appeals to the entire membership to aid him in his efforts to make the organization greater and more influential still.

By order of,

W. McL. FAYSSOUX,
Commander-in-chief.

Official:

General Order No. 4.

New Orleans, La., January 11, 1904.

Comrades:

It is with deep sorrow that I announce to you the death of General John B. Gordon, Commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans. In his death the South has lost her most illustrious son, the Veteran fathers their truest friend, while we are left to mourn a guide and counsellor whose love and services were ever at our command.

In war, he proved himself a soldier of the bravest type; in peace, a patriot of the noblest mold—a Southerner of Southerners—an American of Americans. As soldier, citizen and friend, no blot nor stain rests upon his heroic character. In his life he typified that high and splendid generation whose words and deeds raised the Old South to the pinnacles of human glory; who, with broken swords carved on the unfading scrolls of fame a record that will be forever bright and beautiful and fair. But he is gone. Time and Death are merciless alike to all. Day by day, hour by hour, fewer and fewer, thinner and thinner, become the ranks of that all-glorious host who served the Stars and Bars so well and grandly under the leadership of the immortal Lee. The dead soldier was not the least of that proud and mighty host. Mourn him, for the South has lost in him a man deserving of her love, her honors and her tears.

Each Camp of the Confederation shall hold such services as it may deem appropriate.

By command of,

W. McL. FAYSSOUX,

Commander-in-chief.

W. COVINGTON HALL,

Adjutant General and Chief of Staff.

General Order No. 5.

New Orleans, La., March 16th, 1904.

The Commander-in-chief announces that he has been officially informed, that the Fourteenth Annual Reunion of the United Confederate Veterans will be held in Nashville, Tenn., June 14th, 15th, and 16th, 1904.

The U. S. C. V. will hold their Ninth Annual Convention at the same place and upon the same dates.

Second.—Every effort is being made to bring the Veterans and Sons closer together and cement their relations by the strongest ties.

Third.—Amendments of the most important nature are to be introduced in the Convention, which will require serious consideration.

A copy of same are herewith enclosed, and it is understood that strong delegations will be on hand to put them through.

Fourth.—The attention of the various Camps are called to articles 15 and 18 of the Constitution, as to the time and manner of the payment of their per capita tax, and that no Camp will be allowed representation upon the floor of the Convention, unless in good standing.

Fifth.—A number of Camps are in arrears for several years and as their delay in payment of per capita is detrimental to the interest of the Confederation, the Commander-in-chief will report all delinquents to the Convention, with the recommendation that their Charters be withdrawn.

Sixth.—Large amounts have been subscribed by Camps and Individual members to the Women's Monumental Committee, but the payments have been slow. This is an obligation to which the Sons should give careful thought and prompt payment made, so as not to hamper the workings of the Committee.

Seventh.—The importance of the coming Convention should cause every Son to attend, with full intention to devote all his time and energy to the interests of the Confederation.

Eighth.—Enclosed Roster Rolls should be filled out and returned to General Headquarters, accompanied by per capita tax, at once, so that each Camp can receive proper representation and not be deprived of any privilege.

By order of
W. McL. FAYSSOUX,
Commander-in-chief.

Official:
W. COVINGTON HALL,
Adjutant General and Chief of Staff.

General Order No. 6.

New Orleans, La., May 24, 1904.

First.—The Commander-in-chief at this time announces the appointment of the following Division Commanders, which have taken place subsequently to the issuance of his last General Order.

W. W. SALE.....Norfolk, Va.
THOS. M. OWEN.....Montgomery, Ala.
W. F. PARKHURST.....Atlanta, Ga.
H. L. HIGGS.....Greenfield, Tenn.
O. L. MCKAY.....Meridian, Miss.
CHILTON ATKINSON.....St. Louis, Mo.
GEO. C. MATTHEWS, JR.....Ocala, Florida.
D. C. BELL.....Pine Bluff, Ark.
C. R. SKEEN.....Wapanucka, I. T.

Second.—At the past Reunion the following resolution was adopted and in compliance therewith the Commander-in-chief takes this opportunity to bring same before the respective Camps of this Confederation to pass upon, as far as possible, that they will comply with the wishes of the Convention as expressed in this Resolution.

"Whereas, the United Sons of Confederate Veterans have undertaken as one of the principal objects of their Confederation the loving task of erecting a memorial to the Women of the Confederacy, and it is desired that every Son in our organization shall have some part in this labor of love, therefore, be it

"Resolved, that we urge and recommend that each member of our Confederation contribute before the next Reunion at least $1.00, and that each Camp levy an assessment and collect, or raise by such other method as it may deem proper, not less than $1.00 per capita before that time.

"Resolved, further, that the Commander-in-chief be, and he is hereby directed to communicate this resolution to the respective Camps, and to the Department, Division and Brigade Commanders, with directions to such Commanders to do all in their power to see that the same is carried out."

Third.—Any of the Sons desiring information relative to accommodations at Nashville during the Reunion, can gain the necessary information by addressing Hon. John H. DeWitt, Cole Building, Nashville, Tenn., who is on the committee appointed to furnish this information.

Fourth.—General Order will be issued immediately upon the completion of the program of entertainment by the Nashville Camp; Sons of Veterans giving full and complete detail of the program of entertainment and Convention.

By order of,
W. McL. FAYSSOUX,
Commander-in-chief.

W. COVINGTON HALL,
Adjutant General and Chief of Staff.

General Order No. 7.

New Orleans, La., May 24th, 1904.

The Commander-in-chief at this time take pleasure in announcing the appointment of the Sponsor-in-chief and her two Maids, but before doing so, desires to add these few words:

That the relationship between the Veteran organization and that of the Sons has been growing closer and closer, and that the Veteran organization has issued a General Order sanctioning and approving of the joint convention of the Sons and Veterans, as well as approving of their participating in the ceremonies of their late beloved Commander-in-chief, and that I, now, with the authority vested in me and in deep appreciation on behalf of the Sons organization, do appoint their Sponsor and Maids, as the Sponsor and Maids for the U. S. C. V.

Miss Corinne Tebault, of New Orleans, Louisiana, to be Sponsor-in-Chief.

Miss Mary K. Ewell, of Norfolk, Va., and Miss Elizabeth Thomas, of Nashville, Tenn., to be Maids of Honor.

I particularly request the Sons of Veterans who attend the Nashville Reunion to show these ladies every courtesy and attention, not only because they are the Sponsor-in-chief and Maids selected by this Association, but because they are the Sponsor-in-chief and Maids selected by the Confederate organization whom we are organized to honor, respect and consider.

By order of,

W. McL. FAYSSOUX,

Commander-in-chief.

W. COVINGTON HALL,

Adjutant General and Chief of Staff.

General Order No. 8.

New Orleans, La., June 3, 1904.

All Departments, Divisions, Brigades or Camps sending Sponsors and Maids to the Reunion should send sufficient comrades to properly escort these ladies and see that they receive every attention. It has been requested that the names of these Sponsors and Maids be submitted to the Hon. John H. DeWitt, Cole Building, Nashville, Tenn., so that he can assist in securing quarters for the ladies.

The Commander-in-chief calls the attention of the Sons to the fact that buttons can be secured at the Headquarters of the Sons at Nashville during the Reunion, and considers it appropriate for every Son to wear a button, so that it will demonstrate the strength of our organization on that occasion, as well as being the means of bringing together the members of the Association.

On and after June 7th, all mail should be addressed to the Commander-in-chief, or the members of his staff, at the rooms of the Retail Merchants Association on Union Street, Nashville, Tenn.

The Commander-in-chief up to this time has been unable to issue an order giving the names of the different Sponsors and Maids owing to the fact that few have sent in their names.

In conformity to the wishes of the last Convention the Committee appointed under the affiliation of the Veterans and Sons of Veterans, organizations will make a report considering the proposed amendments to the Constitution.

This will be the last General Order issued before departure for Nashville, and the Sons are requested to communicate with these headquarters for any information which we are able to give.

By order of,

W. McL. FAYSSOUX,

Commander-in-chief.

W. COVINGTON HALL,

Adjutant General and Chief of Staff.

General Orders No. 6.

New Orleans, La., March 15, 1904

I. The Lieutenant-General Commanding directs that careful attention be given to the following "Joint Circular" from the Committees recently created by the U. C. V. and U. S. C. V

The Joint Committee on co-operation between the Veterans and their Sons, as announced to the United Confederate Veterans in General Orders 303, and the United Sons of Confederate Veterans in General Orders 2.

To all Comrades of the United Confederate Veterans and of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans, Greeting! A loving heartfelt Greeting! Trusting that it may result in bringing to a complete success the object for which the Committee was constituted; "the closer association of the two Confederations;" the Committee addresses this Joint Circular to all Veterans and Sons:

The Committee asks that earnest consideration be given and prompt action be taken.

All Comrades of the United Confederate Veterans and of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans must appreciate the vital importance of the movement to both organizations. Vital to the Veterans because their ranks are so rapidly thinning that the time is near at hand when the Sons must take their place, if the federation and its great objects are to be perpetuated. Vital to the Sons, for the inspiration to succeed the Veterans and carry on the work must be absorbed from their Sires, the actors in the great drama, which revolutionized our country.

What is the great object, which must be perpetuated? The memory and true history of the Confederate struggle for independence! The United Confederate Veterans have other minor aims, but that is Supreme. The Veterans must teach and the Sons must learn "the glorious heritage, which belongs to them." The heritage is undoubtedly "glorious," but what good, practical good, has it by which the Sons may be made better and nobler men and truer patriots?

Let us not deceive ourselves and our comrades. Unless there is this benefit, some great good, and it is appreciated, the Veterans will teach in vain, and the Sons will turn a deaf ear. The Committee firmly believes that there is, and commend its reason for so believing to all Comrades and Sons.

It would be unnecessary for the Committee, or any other body of sane men, to disavow any disloyalty of the South to the Union, under which we live and of which we are now proud; to disavow the intention of stirring up any factional strife; to deny the most honest acceptance by the Southern people of the results of the war. The peaceful and lawabiding attitudes of all ex-Confederates since 1865 and their devotion to the glorious upbuilding and sustenance of the Country, North and South, East and West, would give the lie to the assertion, or even insinuation, that any man of the South desires the resurrection of a dead past.

What shall be perpetuated of the Confederate struggle? What shorn of all attendant surroundings, did the Confederates fight for? We answer emphatically. Liberty and the Right of Self Government, which is guaranteed by the Constitution, and was achieved by our forefathers. On these noble principles is our government founded; on them are built the freedom and honor and dignity of our blessed land. Therefore, the Veterans in inculcating, and the Sons in learning, the principles fought for by the Confederates are but keeping alive the glorious principles, which should govern our Country to-day.

"Is is't death to fall for freedom's right?
He's dead alone that lacks her light."

The "glorious heritage" is the matchless courage, fortitude and endurance, which the Confederates, the Sires of the Sons, displayed during that tremendous struggle in defending their principles, which developed an almost godlike manhood.

Therefore, let every Son be proud of his Confederate Sire, and let his example be an inspiring emulation to him in fighting the battles of life. Let it make him a higher and nobler man and a better patriot. Devotion to the memory of the Confederate struggle is not inconsistent with the highest devotion to our Country, which grew a perfect whole out of the clash of discordant factions.

We urge most earnestly that the Veterans pave the way and that the Sons walk in it; that the Veterans open their arms and that the Sons respond to the embrace. And when the Veterans have bivouacked on death's eternal camping ground, may their loving Sons stand ready to honor their memory and the memory of that magnificent record, which should immortalize those gray warriors who upheld the starry cross.

The Joint Committee makes a few practical suggestions to carry this union into effect, all authorized by General Orders 303.

To the United Confederate Veterans: All organizations should stimulate in every way the formation and sustenance of Camps of United Sons of Confederate Veterans, and encourage the boys and have them with you whenever possible.

State Divisions: Appoint at once the Joint Committee on co-operation, as provided in Clause I, Par. II, General Order 303, and notify State Divisions of United Sons of Confederate Veterans. At all reunions, extend to the Sons the privileges of the floor and at the opening ceremonies, especially, let them meet with you, and let them take part in the speaking and other exercises therein.

Camps: Invite the Sons (of Camps) to all your meetings and social gatherings, particularly those where historical matters are presented. Change your Constitutions, so that Sons, members of United Sons of Confederate Veterans, may become members of your Camp with such privileges as you may determine; right to vote or not; right to speak or not; right to contribute to your treasury or not. Under General Order 303, you can give them "such privileges of membership as each Camp may determine." But remember the proviso—that such Son is a member of some duly organized Camp belonging to the United Sons of Confederate Veterans. Be liberal in dealing with them, and by loving kindness make them feel that they are the Sons of the Veterans' Camp.

To the United Sons of Confederate Veterans: Under General Orders 303, you have the right given you by the highest authority of the United Confederate Veterans, to which all subordinate organizations must, and we fell sure, will cheerfully and lovingly assent:

1. To participate in all conventions at the opening ceremonies, and have the privileges of the floor at all reunions of Veterans.

2. To become members of any Camp of United Confederate Veterans on such terms as said Camp may prescribe.

3. You are further asked to uniform yourselves in the historic gray.

4. The Committee of Conference at New Orleans, in its joint report, also provided that Sons should omit all designations of military rank on the gray uniforms.

Of the present Joint Committee, five were members of the Committee of Conference and are aware of the object of the provision, and therefore, it speaks authoritively in explaining. Its object was not to restrict the Sons in any privileges, but in the associatins with the Veterans, many of whom were and are still "Privates," the wearing of military insignia on the part of the Sons may perhaps (in the opinion of the Committee) we do not say it would, create some unpleasant feelings, and as the union is to be built on a true and happy fraternal feeling, even the chances of such had best be avoided. If, as in some cases, the Sons very properly do mark their official position by a badge lettered "Dept. Comdr.," or "Division Comdr." or "Commander," all chance of such unpleasant feelings would be avoided, and to secure this the Conference Committee unanimously agreed upon the report.

5. Change your constitution so as to give the members of the United Confederate Veterans the right to the floor at all meetings and urge them to always be present.

6. Frequently invite Veterans to address the Camp, giving reminiscences of the Confederate Service and historical data.

7. Division Commanders appoint at once Joint Committees on co-operation and notify Comdr. State Div. U. C. V. of same.

The Joint Committee earnestly hopes that the above suggestions will have the desired effect of drawing the Sons into closer union with the Veterans, and with this hope commit its accomplishment to the various organizations of these two splendid bodies of men, the United Confederate Veterans and the United Sons of Confederate Veterans.

COMMITTEE UNITED CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

C. Irvin E. Walker, Comdr. Army No. Va. Dept., Chairman.
Bennett H. Young, Comdr. Kentucky Div.
John A. Webb, Comdr. 1st, Brigade Miss Div.
K. M. Van Zandt, Comdr. Texas Div.
W. R. Houghton, of W. J. Hardee Camp, No. 39.

COMMITTEE UNITED SONS OF CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

R. B. Haughton, Chairman.
W. P. Lane.
H. L. Whitfield.
A. M. S. Morgan.
W. M. Barrow.

II. The Lt. Gen. Commanding can add nothing to emphasize the sentiments so feelingly uttered in this Joint Circular; but he earnestly urges every member of both organizations to make strenuous efforts to accomplish the ends desired, and so eloquently set forth.

By command of,
(Signed) STEPHEN D. LEE,
Lieutenant General Commanding.
